USA Gymnastics extends AAI as Official Equipment Supplier for Artistic Gymnastics Development Program

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (September 25, 2025) – USA Gymnastics' longest-standing partner, American Athletic, Inc. (AAI), will continue to serve as the Official Gymnastics Equipment Supplier for the USA Gymnastics Artistic Development Program through 2029, USAG Gymnastics announced September 25, 2025.

USAG's Development Programs collectively serve more than 75 percent of USA Gymnastics membership and are the cornerstone of mass participation and elite development in gymnastics. A USA Gymnastics partner since 1972, AAI also will establish an emergency relief program for clubs that lose equipment to natural disasters and will make a contribution to the USA Gymnastics Foundation.

"We are excited to renew our work and partnership with AAI," USAG Chief Program Officer Stefanie Korepin said. "The gymnastics community nationwide benefits from their commitment to holistically support the entire sport, from clubs to national championship events."

AAI will continue to supply a range of USA Gymnastics developmental events, including the Men's and Women's Artistic Development Program National Championships, Eastern and Western Championships, and the Gymnastics for All National GymFest. They also will support hands-on educational clinics at National and Regional Congresses.

"Supporting the Development Program is about more than equipment—it's about investing in the dreams of young athletes," said Stephanie Savas, Director of Sales at AAI. "We're proud to deepen our partnership with USA Gymnastics and to give back to the community that has supported us for over 70 years. Together, we're building a stronger foundation for the future of the sport."
